

23 May 2020

To Whom It May Concern

I have the pleasure to have Surya Deva Raja Singan as a student of mine for some of the subjects I taught in higher diploma and degree courses that included International Business (higher diploma), Strategic Management and Corporate Social Responsibility.

Surya demonstrated not only enthusiasm in his learning but intellectual acumen and curiosity. Instead of accepting information passively, he would take time to reflect and often without hesitation ask or pose questions to clarify doubts he understood comprehensively. Besides, he ensured that he submitted his assignment within tight deadline.

Surya without doubt is a matured student. Aside from his full-time study commitment, he took time to gain valuable work experiences by taking up acting role on part-time basis as he recognise the importance of acquiring work experience in addition to acquiring sound knowledge to gain a competitive advantage.

I am confident that Surya will be able to contribute meaningfully to the organisation he joins as he is determine to succeed and curve a mark in his career. I wish Surya all the very best in his future endeavours may contact me should you require further information.

Yours Faithfully,

Mr Raymond Loh
Academic Director,
Principal Lecturer of the School of Business and Law,
TMC Academy, Singapore

Email: raymond.loh@tmc.edu.sg